

Aerotron-Repco Systems

Service Bulletin

---

Blue Streak Programming

In order to program the Blue Streak modem, it is suggested that the watchdog circuit be disabled. This is easily accomplished with a wire jumper. It is unnecessary to open the modem.

The procedure requires installing the jumper between pin 15 (ground) and 12 (supervisory disable) on the terminal block prior to programming. (see diagram). This action disables the circuit and will allow programming.

